That History Lady

That History Lady dives into the delicious history of the invention of the chocolate chip cookie. Did you know that America's most beloved homemade cookie is less than 100 years old? Renowned chef Ruth Wakefield invented the tasty treat at the Toll House, the restaurant that she and her husband Ken owned in Whitman, Massachusetts. Today, more than half of all cookies baked in the United States are chocolate chip. Yet, at the time of her death in 1977, she did not even earn an obituary in the New York Times.
