Peace, Love & 1969: Remembering Woodstock Music Festival

Friday, February 12, 2021
1:00 p.m. - 2:30 p.m.

It was a time of peace, free love, music and togetherness. A time where the wild child, flower child, and the dreamers of The 1960's could come together to dance, sing, and express themselves during three days of ongoing live music and famous artists. This year marks the 50th Anniversary of the Woodstock Music Festival. With about 32 bands performing, the festival, originally called the Woodstock Music & Art Fair, captivated an audience of over 400,000 for "3 Days of Peace and Music." It was held between August 15-18, 1969 on a 600-acre dairy farm in White Lake, New York.

Historian Jim Gibbons will discuss Woodstock and its place in the 1960's. Gibbons will explain the festival's role in the counterculture movement, its place in history and why it is recognized as one of the most profound moments that changed Rock and Roll. He will discuss the musical artists and bands featured at the Woodstock Festival, including The Grateful Dead, Jimi Hendrix, Janis Joplin, Pink Floyd, Santana, The Who, Jefferson Airplane and many more.
